We would like an advisory opinion to determine if in fact a digital money account (wallet id) is similar in substance and function to that of a bank account with traditional banks since they accomplish similar funtions of allowing deposits of money. And we further seek and request an administrative opinion or advisory opinion regarding the digital money blockchain of as relates to it being functionally similar to that of a depository institution aka bank and traditional banking since in substance they function indentially as traditional banking allows deposits of money and the blockchain allows deposits of digital money. We have not yet raised any funds for this super pac to date and agree to freeze any and all future activities untill abover requested administrative and advisory opinions can be completed.
